

Elementary School

I go to school to learn a lot
For when I'm big and tall,

And when I am, my Daddy says
My learning can't be small,

He knows a lot since he is smart,
And what he says is right.

I'll study hard and do my best,
Take lessons home at night.

But recess is a lot more fun
To run and laugh and play,

And tease the girls or pull their braids
Till teacher's hair turns gray.

I lost my coat that some kid took,
It might have been my friend,

Then told his mom my mouse inside
Might make her his best friend.

My mother said that this was wrong,
It wasn't really cool,

Remembered what my teacher said,
About some Golden Rule.

I don't know what that's all about,
But think it's in high school.
